Artists of the Month:

February

Jenny Fyffe Textiles/Bag Making

"For as long as I can remember I have worked with threads and textiles, creating handmade garments and quilts, using the lifelong skills of crochet, knitting and sewing taught to me by my mother.

Bag making has been my latest interest area when I moved from full-time work as a teacher to the wonders of retirement. I am enjoying incorporating my various skills into these functional applications.

The traditional Japanese sashiko stitching style has found its way into my work, being very rewarding along with the unique designs of contemporary Japanese fabrics. As a keen recycler I like to incorporate small pieces of fabric, wool and thread into my handcrafting. More recently I have expanded my range to include hand embroidered birds.

Overall my inspirations come from the materials I have on hand, choosing largely the colour themes that draw on nature, plants in my garden and the local environment.

I look forward to sharing my work with you."

March

Marzena Kaczmarek Felting

"Welcome to my world of felt.

I am a textile artist applying a wet felting technique to create my works. I use the merino wool in an amazing array of colours and complement it with silk strands and fabrics, alpaca, kid and baby camel wool, bamboo and soy fibres.

Working with natural fibres is challenging but the final effects of the felting process could be unexpected and are always very rewarding.

Each piece of my work is unique and lightweight.

I enjoy creating hanging textiles, pictures, cushion covers, wraps, shawls, throws and runners.

I also make jewellery combining felted elements with other natural materials like amber, wood, shell, semi-precious stones and silk fabrics.

I find the inspiration for my works in the surrounding world: beautiful gum trees outside my office window at the Waite Campus; the texture of the tree bark and the shapes of the leaves in my garden; the variety and richness of colours of the products at the amazing Adelaide Central Market; the movement of the ocean waves; contrasts and hues of the interior of the Australian continent.

So have a look, be surprised..."
