A fundraising exhibition
by Dr John Flett

Tranquility, watercolour

This is the seventh exhibition of watercolour, acrylic and oil paintings by skilled artist Dr John Flett, who is raising funds for the McGuinness McDermott Foundation.

What Dr Flett says about his work is that "the cost of my paintings have been kept as reasonable as possible, so that we can raise funds for an important cause. Cancer can impact on everyone and for the young ones; the disease is an emotional event." His contribution to the foundation is great, having raised over $51,000 in the past 10 years.

Australia all Over will be opened by Her Worship Wendy Greiner, Mayor of Burnside on Friday 30 January 2009 at 6pm.

Artist of the Month March

Basketry with Anne Quigley

See Anne at work on Saturdays 14 & 21 March, 2 – 4pm.

"I happened upon basketry almost by accident a few years ago during a creative exploratory phase. Up to that point I had been working in many forms of creative expression. It was from a chance booking into a basketry workshop that I found to my surprise that I was quite quickly hooked!

The rhythmic, soothing action of the weaving motion had, for me, a kind of meditative quality to it. As I began to learn more about the materials and techniques involved, it slowly began to take over more of my life.

My love of colour and design is seen through the additions of colourful fabrics, wool, yarns or beads in my work, complementing the softer, more muted natural materials.

Working in an ancient medium using time-honoured techniques in a distinctly modern way is also inspiring, as is the process of collecting basketry materials and swapping ideas with others who appreciate gardens, plants & nature.

Basketry is an art-form which is inexpensive – materials are largely free – and easily accessible for most people. But patience can be an advantage!"
