Mad Hatters Tea Party Exhibition

31 July - 26 August

Jasmine Tea, Jorji Gardner

Get ready for a fun, mixed media exhibition around the theme of the Mad Hatters Tea Party. Celebrating the contribution of artists in our community, as part of the annual festival of South Australian Living Artists (SALA), over 30 artists are presenting works in a range of mediums. From teapots and sculptures, to creatures, prints, paintings, tea cosies, and wearable art there is bound to be something for everyone.

Come along to the community launch event, offering activities and a great afternoon out. See details on this page. All welcome. Exhibition closes Friday, 26 August.

Community Launch Event Sunday, 31 July 2011 at 2 pm

- Textile demonstration by Elizabeth Emery
- Millinery demonstration by Anne Thompson
- Painting demonstration by Andrew Barr
- Live music by the Bearded Gypsy Band
- Dress up face painting
- Wear your 'mad hat' to the launch for a prize
- Bring along your favourite tea party recipe for the Recipe Share Wall

Flourish

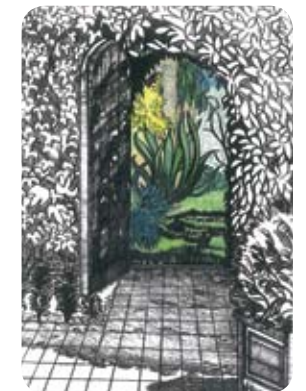

2 - 23 September

'Flourish' is the amazing result of visual artist Eleni (Helen) Kostoglou's journey to new ways of expression through her arts practice, after a diagnosis of Parkinson's disease and Lewy Body dementia.

A visual artist since the 1960s Helen has held many exhibitions and is recognised for a range of accomplishments. Understandably she experienced loss of motivation and inspiration in her art when she was unable to produce work to the standard which she had come to expect. She has now re-engaged her artistic passion, assisted through the Mentoring Program of Alzheimer's Australia South Australia (AASA), and working closely with artist Michele Wilkie.

This is a wonderful opportunity to view the outcomes of this 'artist with artist' collaborative journey, and a fantastic example of how continuing to lead a life with meaning and joy after the diagnosis of dementia is possible.

Part proceeds of sales from the exhibition will go to AASA's Art Mentoring Program. This will provide further assistance for Helen and other professional artists diagnosed with dementia, to continue their art.

'Flourish' launches on Friday, 2 September 2011 at 6 pm. Free entry. All welcome to support this wonderful event.

Digital Art
1 August - 2 September

'My digital art is based on manipulating photographs and creating concepts (abstract and natural) into an art form. The works on exhibit explore the different aspects of digital art to express feeling, line and form through nature, architecture and the human form.

The subject matter of my work is inspired by many things. These include the landscape surrounding my home town of Berri, my garden, travel photographs and the art world - past and present.

I use digital photograph, digital painting, and digital collage in my work, and also draw on my experience in other mediums such as art quilts. This was my starting point for my current passion, where I began to use digital art to create my own fabric designs. Since then I have seen so many new ways to explore this exciting way of producing my art.

I hope you enjoy my showcase.'

Woodwork
6 - 30 September

'Retirement was the catalyst to my discovering the wonderful world of woodwork. It has been a hobby that brought a new direction to my life, and was also a challenge as I had never worked with timber before.

A doll's house for my granddaughter kick-started my interest, from which I decided to take a course at TAFE. I developed skills in furniture and clock making at first, but then found a new direction in portraits.

Captured in wood and made on the scroll-saw this provided me with a new challenge. After some experimentation I made a portrait of my granddaughter and other members of the family.

Each piece I take great pleasure in creating as an individual work. At the moment I am working on perfecting my own patternmaking to convert photos to scroll-saw portraits.

My woodwork continues to challenge me as I create each piece with great satisfaction and enjoyment.'
