Connexion

An exhibition of artworks
by Red House Group

8 - 27 July

The Red House Group Inc is an artist managed non-profit organisation whose focus is on arts and cultural activities in the Southern areas of Adelaide. For this exhibition the group is branching out to connect with the Eastern region arts enthusiasts in Burnside. Over 1200 artists have joined the group since 1994, so there is a wealth of skills and experience amongst those involved.

As the Red House Group moves into its 19th year, the challenge continues for members to extend themselves to produce artwork of a consistently high quality in a range of media.

'Connexion' showcases the work of over 60 members, who work in a wide variety of styles. The criteria for exhibition was that all pieces be of a uniform size. Sculptural work in a variety of media, as well as jewellery and textiles, are also featured.

Catching up on the Goss

The title 'Connexion' links to this exhibition in many ways. The artists have connected with their artwork that in turn will connect to a different audience through this exhibition. This provides an opportunity for artists to engage a new viewer in Burnside.

Connexion will be opened by Peter Goers, ABC Evening Show Broadcaster & Reformed Social Irritant (self confessed).

Artist Demonstrations by Marie Sheridan & Christe Farrow.

ARTISTS OF THE MONTH

June: Phyllis Williams Winter Felted Textiles

'As a graduate of the Centre of Performing Arts my career has been not only in the costume area of the Arts but as Coordinator and lecturer in Costume Construction at the Adelaide College of the Arts. In my professional life I have been required to use and demonstrate a wide variety of hand skills using a huge range of different mediums and materials, to produce items ranging from huge costume props to working with delicate silks and laces.

My hobbies have always reflected my love of different textures in both yarns and textiles and as a self-taught knitter I can happily go from knitting huge floor rugs from recycled fabric, to knitting fine silver jewellery or intricate 3ply garments. Never using commercial patterns I rely on my pattern making skills to create works that are both individual and unique.

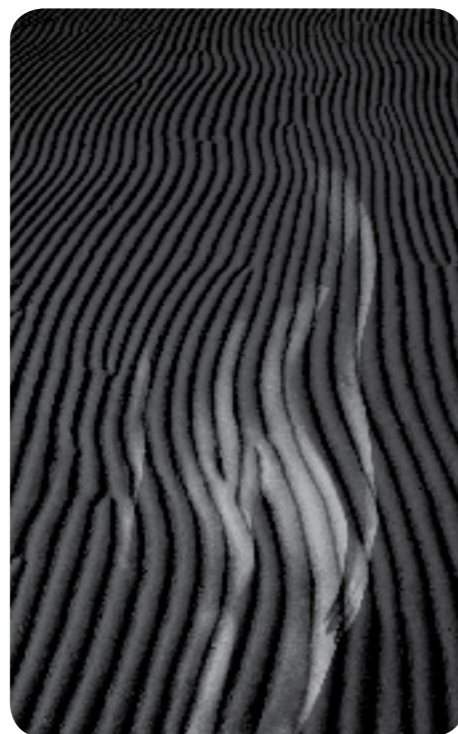

I recently discovered felted knitting which adds yet another dimension, the finished result being dependent on a wide range of variables that are more difficult to control... water temperature, yarn suitability and agitation. However, by using trial and error have developed a range of items that can be replicated with a degree of consistency.

I hope you enjoy, and are inspired by my selection of items on display during June.'

July: Roger Ford Photography

'I consider myself re-emerging. My journey has taken me from being a young photographer/cinematographer and graphics coordinator who exhibited works in the 70s, to an academic in film and television communications, to a digital graphics image maker today.

The montage images you see in my showcase are in a way, connections through time. They inter-relate negative film taken 40 years ago, integrated and formed with contemporary digital layers.

I work with these images to express a relationship between the human figure, and natural forms and colours. They echo ideas ranging from Celtic mythology and 'the season', to early German expressionistic cinema.

I also hope that they are engaging and pleasing to look at, which may be a pretty good reason for creating them as well.'

Volunteer profile

Name: Rosa Princi

How long have you volunteered at Pepper Street and what do you like about it?

I am a new volunteer, as well as an artist. In my few weeks so far I have enjoyed my role greeting people at reception as they arrive, and providing them with afternoon tea as they relax in the Dorrit's coffee shop area.

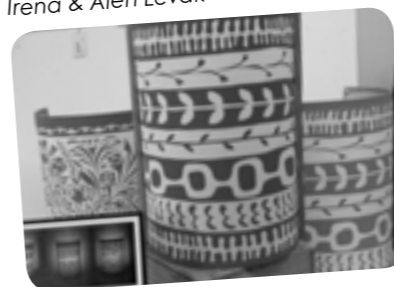

What is your favourite art style/form? Why?

As an artist myself I enjoy painting in an abstract, modern style including people in unusual places and scenes of tall buildings, using oils and acrylics and a spatula for texture. At Pepper Street the different styles of artwork displayed by many artists is fantastic to admire.

Shop Art

The Pepper Street Art Centre Gift Shop is an increasingly popular venue for gifts, trinkets, cards and all things handcrafted. New artists are regularly included and we invite you to support them. Jewellery, scarves, soft toys, pottery, occasion cards, paintings, photography, wood and more. Join the Pepper Club to receive special discounts.
