Luna, Cheeta

This exhibition will appeal to the cat lover in all of us, with depictions of big cats such as tigers, cheetahs and lions as well as domestic cats.

Help!, Elise Leslie-Allen

Visitors can expect to see a wide variety of artworks including painting, jewellery, printmaking, paper mâché sculptures, textiles, ceramics, pastels, photography and more!

Works range from the beautiful and delicate pastels by Carol Coventry to the fun and vivid paintings by Elise Leslie-Allen. Lisa Pastars' quirky yet endearing paper mâché cat sculptures are a sight to see.

New artist, Luna, will have some striking portrayals of lions and cheetahs, while Paul Hester has some amazing galvanised iron sculptures to behold. Contemporary jewellery will be on show by Georgia Gabrielle, Carolanne Wasley and Carol Argent which is also bound to be a hit.

There are wonderful ceramic pieces by popular potters, Marilyn Saccardo and Jane Alyce Humphreys.

Artists of the Month:

February

Margaret Wollaston, Ceramics

"I have been working in the clay medium for many many years, having been introduced to the medium originally when I was a student of Architecture. From a career as an architect, plus mother and wife, I took on the new challenge of studying ceramics at the SA School of Art.

Many workshops with leading Australian and international potters have influenced my work and I have enjoyed exhibiting throughout Australia since 1977. Internationally I had four pieces of work selected for the Austrade Display in Tokyo plus another large consignment to New York.

A very large body of work was commissioned for the then named United Water Corporation in Adelaide, with my inspiration taken from Australia's unique landscape, earthy and ochre tones, as well as the blues of water, created into sculpted water vessels.

In addition I have been involved as convenor for many exhibitions and acted as President for various local potters clubs.

This display will likely be my 'finale' at Pepper Street in anticipation of an interstate move to live closer to my children and grandchildren.

My art has been a pleasure and a passion."

Artist Opportunities coming up...

Exhibit in 2014

Applications now being accepted for limited space in the 2014 calendar for artists/groups to submit. Please call for application and details.

March

Georgia Gabrielle, Jewellery

"I make artworks that stylistically reflect the exquisiteness of the natural world. My art pays homage to precious and unusual flowers, native birds and insects, that I find on my explorations.

I aspire to illuminate the delicacy of nature by delving into the details, observing and crafting tiny anatomical patterns. I use hand engraving, punching, cold forming and hammering to bring my jewellery to life, often described as complex and detailed on a minute scale, like nature itself.

Each little hand made treasure is a physical manifestation of my exploration into how to lead a happy, purposeful and meaningful life. I use shapes, patterns and motifs as a vehicle to express my personal enquiries and reflections about life.

Stylish, elegant, sophisticated and minimal, are words used by others to describe my work, which I create in my home based studio, being limited edition pieces to last you a life time.

I hope you enjoy what you see."
