Exhibitions

A Frayed (K)not

An exhibition of textiles
by Wild Fibres Artists

28 September - 19 October

Charmian Quintrell, Family Elements

Artists: Bev Bills, Margaret Harris, Charmian Quintrell, Jackie Pearce, Lynne Radcliffe, Liz Steveson, Yvonne Twining and Liz Yates

Wild Fibres is a group of artists with a common interest in fibre and textile arts as well as other media (leatherwork and basketry). The group first came together in 2005. Each artist works independently but come together to exhibit.

Some of the artists have responded to the title literally while others have taken a more conceptual approach. Artists have used the sound of "afraid" and "not" to explore quite different interpretations.

This will be a contemporary and exciting exhibition with a vibrant mix of 2D and 3D works. There will be some common themes expressed in their creations that will span knotting, tying together to becoming tangled up or frazzled, along with ideas about family, fear, courage and the importance of connections when faced with settling in a new land.

A Frayed (K)not will be opened by Ian Willding, Curator & Visual Artist on Friday, 28 September at 6 pm.

Artists of the Month

October 2012

Burnside Painting Group

"As award winners of the recent Burnside Painting Group's annual SALA exhibition we are showcasing our winning entries to highlight the diverse and interesting artworks of our group. The breadth of the Burnside Painting Group artists is the result in part, of the outstanding tutors we have had this year. Each tutor has inspired us, and encouraged us, to greater things.

There are three awards represented in our Artist of the Month display including:

'The Patron's Award' for oils and acrylics won by Maureen Pope and runner up Dan Nastasie;

'The President's Award' for watercolour, gouache or other works on paper won by Jean Quick and runner up Glenda Bailey;

'The Encouragement Award' for a work in any medium by an artist who has not previously received an award, won by Sandra Davis.

Dan Nastasie also won the People's Choice Award with a wonderful pastel.

We hope you enjoy this group-based 'Artist of the Month'. The full exhibition was viewed by over 700 people and more than a quarter of the works were sold."

November 2012

Penny Farrow

"I started designing and making leather bags and accessories in 2009. Initially I did everything by hand with a hole punch, cobblers hammer and a needle and waxed thread. I just really enjoyed the potential of leather, its durability, the colour, texture, the weight and the smell.

This year I purchased an industrial sewing machine and have begun to focus on designing and making leather book covers. This change in direction has allowed me to produce more detailed work, and I love exploring what I can achieve with my machine.

I like 1950s fabric prints and linocut for the way the shapes are overlaid and misaligned, as well as for the colours and abstraction. I try to achieve this aesthetic in my book cover designs.

I derive my subject matter from life in Adelaide, the Botanic Gardens, Morialta National Park, old buildings in Port Adelaide and daily activities like food preparation and gardening

The skills and knowledge gained in my studies - a Diploma in Applied and Visual Art and a Bachelor of Interior Architecture - were the start of this journey some years ago. I hope you enjoy my showcase"

Volunteer Profile

Name: Hedy Sellars

How long have you volunteered at Pepper Street and what do you like about it? I started volunteering a couple of months ago.

As an 'artistically challenged' individual I feel privileged to be surrounded by so many clever and talented people at Pepper Street. I enjoy seeing everyone's work in both the gallery and the shop. You also get to meet very interesting people from a variety of backgrounds whether they be exhibitors, students or visitors.

What is your favourite art style/form? Why? I have eclectic tastes but if I had to choose a favourite it would probably be jewellery. I like the thought of 'art' as a form of adornment and how it can be an expression of the wearer's personality and style.
