In Praise of Australia

An exhibition by
Dr John Flett

16 January -
6 February 2015

'In Praise of Australia' is an exhibition of oil paintings by Dr John Flett which capture a range of scenes and special moments from across Australia. Dr Flett has been a prolific painter for many years from his time as a country-based general practice doctor until his now nonagenarian years.

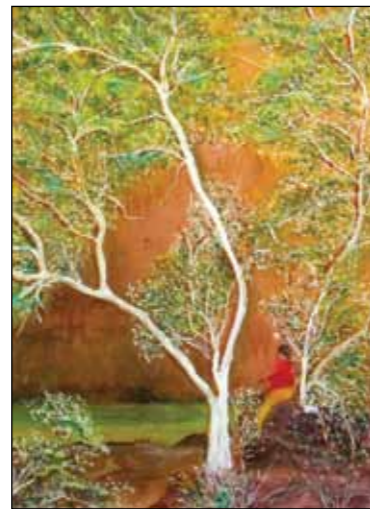

Ghost Gum at the MacDonnell Ranges

Declaring this to be his last exhibition, it is a worthy celebration of not only his long-term arts practice but the large-scale fundraising work that the sales of his paintings have enabled across many exhibitions. From the sale of every painting Dr Flett is donating back to the Little Heroes Foundation in support of their latest project, a robotic rehabilitation and research centre at the Women's and Children's Hospital. Since 2000 Dr Flett's paintings have contributed more than $50,000 to the Foundation.

At Eucla, SA/WA Border

"I would be most grateful if people could purchase a painting as the proceeds will help make a significant difference to the lives of children battling cancer and other serious illnesses."
- Dr. John Flett

Python Pool, WA

Opens: Friday 16 January 6 pm

Launch Guest: Chris McDermott, chairman, Little Heroes Foundation
